

Matthew 18:15-20

Jesus taught his disciples how to deal with disagreements and conflicts with other believers by talking fairly and calmly about the problem.

Jesus teaches us how to solve problems with other people.

Write a letter to someone to tell them how much you value their friendship or to address a problem you have faced in your friendship. Use this space to practise what you can say to them to resolve the problem.

Circle the ways that Jesus would want us to communicate.

How do you feel when you disagree with someone? Draw or doodle your emotions here.